

The Wharton Global Alumni Forum-Santiago is only days away, and the Organizing Committee has everything ready for you.

Last Wednesday, April 27th, the Wharton Club-Chile had one of its meetings, and the updates on the forum were presented to Wharton and INSEAD alumni, who were really impressed by the high level of the panel discussions and speakers.

If you visit www.whartonchile.com you will find all the updates on the Forum, and the final schedule and speakers have been posted.

Some of the panel discussions are: A vision of Latin America from different perspectives; Investing in Latin America; Pension Funds and The future of wine. And speakers like Vittorio Corbo, president of the Central Bank of Chile and Oscar Fanjul, Honorary Chairman of Repsol, have confirmed their participation.

Also, we have excellent prizes for the Raffle, like a case of Nicaraguan rum, and a bottle of Clos Apalta wine, from Casa Lapostolle Vineyard, which was chosen the third best wine of the world by Wine Spectator on 2000. However, as we still need more prizes in order to make the raffle more exciting, we hope alumni and friends will make further donations.

And if you are interested in doing business in Chile, or you want to meet company's executives, you can contact the organizing committee and we will be pleased to arrange a meeting for you while you are staying in Chile.

My kind regards,

Claudio Engel
